1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-12, drawn to a digitally controlled hybrid power module, classified in class 323, subclass 266.
- II. Claims 13-20, drawn to a power supply device, classified in class 700, subclass 298.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the power supply device includes only a generically recited digitally controlled hybrid power module whereas the subcombination is specifically set forth. The subcombination has separate utility such as a stand-alone digitally controlled hybrid power module or a digitally controlled hybrid power module included in any power supply system.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and their recognized divergent subject matter and the search required for invention I is not required for invention II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

During a telephone conversation with Anthony Murabito on January 6, 2005 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of a digitally controlled hybrid power module, claims 1-12. Claims 13-20, drawn to a power supply device, are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

2. An Examiner's Amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 C.F.R. § 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the Issue Fee.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

In The Claims

Claims 13-20 have been cancelled.

Authorization for this Amendment was given in a telephone interview with Anthony Murabito on January 7, 2005.

3. A Reasons for Allowance appears below. Should any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the Issue Fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the Issue Fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance".

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The invention of a digitally controlled hybrid power module as recited by claims 1-7 is found to be allowable over the prior art since a digitally controlled hybrid power module comprising a post-regulating linear regulator controlled by a first digital signal and a pre-regulating switching regulator controlled by the first digital signal and a second digital signal was not found to be singularly or collectively taught by the prior art.

The invention of a digitally controlled hybrid power module as recited by claims 8-12 is found to be allowable over the prior art since a digitally controlled hybrid power module comprising a pre-regulating buck regulator controlled by a first error amplifier response to first and second digital-to-analog converters and a post-regulating pass device controlled by a second error amplifier responsive to a instrumentation amplifier and the second digital-to-analog converter was not found to be singularly or collectively taught by the prior art.

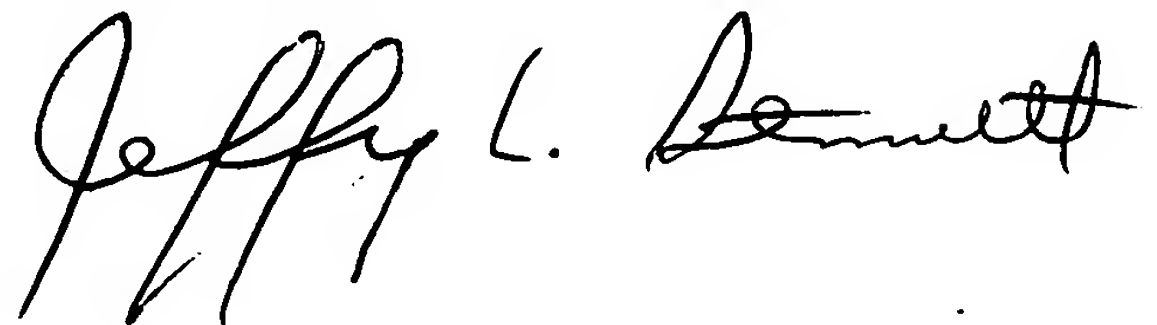

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jeffrey L. Sterrett whose telephone number is (571) 272-2085. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday & 8:00am-5:00pm.
